ARMSTRONG W.							W. Armstrong of Loganlea 1843. He was in his 88th year in 1931. He took up a farm holding at Loganlea (Logan Dist) of between 40 and 50 acres in 1863 as a young man of around 20 years, and all the capital he had was eleven pence half penny (ten cents). His son was Fred Armstrong with whom he resided in 1931 at Loganlea. W Armstrong had to clear the land of scrub and settlers then cultivated sugar, cotton, corn, and millet. Each family owned one or two cows and made butter which they sold. Also kept a few hens and pigs. In W. Armstrong's time, Brisbane was the nearest market place 18 miles away, reached on horseback, travelling over a rough track, many times Mr Armstrong rode to Brisbane with a basket of eggs on one arm and a billy of butter on the other, couple of pairs of fowls across his horse's neck and sometimes slung over the saddle in back-bag were pigs. Among the customers he had for butter and eggs was Government House. (....Part 2)

							Part 2: W. Armstrong had cultivated cotton of between eight and ten acres at Loganlea, a profitable crop, the best selling crop was corn, even when it sold at times for less than one shilling a bushell (10c) but it was assured as a regular and definite income. Armstrong and his wife and family had lived in an old slab humpy for many years until an imposing and large cottage of sawn timber was erected. It was one of the first sawn timber cottages erected in the whole south coast area. Timber came from Lahey's sawmill. By 1931 the sawn timber from W Armstrong's cottage had been incorporated into his son Fred Armstrong's house, after it was demolished. Brisbane Courier 31.1.1931 by Thomas J Mahon. W Armstrong gave the land for the erection of the Loganlea Uniting Church in 1883.
